MOSCOW, TO-DAY.

SCATHING DENUNCIATIONS OF BRITISH JUSTICE. WHICH HE DESCRIBED AS BEING "ONE LAW FOR THE POOR AND ANOTHER FOR THE WEALTHY," WERE MADE BY THE PROSECUTOR, M. VYSHINSKY, WHEN HE COM-MENCED HIS LENGTHY SUMMING-UP AT THE CONCLU-SION OF THE EVIDENCE IN THE TRIAL OF THE SIX BRI-TISH EMPLOYEES OF METROPOLITAN VICKERS YESTER-DAY EVENING.

The accused, Messrs. Alan Monkhouse, Charles Thornton, William Macdonald, John Cushny, Charles Nordwall and A. W. Gregory, who listened composedly to the speech, are charged with military and political espionage, sabotage and bribery.

Vyshinsky commented upon the remarks made in the House of Commons on April 5, by Mr. C. M. Patrick, the Conservative Member for Tavistock, Devon, in which the latter, describing a Russian court trial he had attended said that the Court was an "organ of class war."

At the resumption of the trial at 7.15 p.m. yesterday, the Court was packed, some speciators standing, when all seats were filled.

The foreman of the Experts Committee read the answers to Monkhouse's questions, declaring, inter alia, that a piece of metal could penetrate the protective screen and wreck a turbine. Tests had shown that the turbine the guarantee.

STATESMEN TO CONFER ON WORLD PROBLEMS

WAR DEBTS, TARIFFS AND SILVER QUESTIONS TO BE SOLVED World interest will be centred on Washington in the course of the next few days when President Franklin D. Roosevelt will hold a series of conversations with leading statesmen from Britain, France and Canada. Momentons results are expected from the informal conferences which will deal with the major problems facing the world. The British Premier, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, and the French delegate, former Premier Edouard Herriot, sailed for the United States on Saturday. Invitations have been accepted by Germany, Italy, China and Japan, whose delegates will arrive later in the month. The conversations will deal largely with war debts, and will also act as a preliminary meeting to the forthcoming World Economic Conference. Inter-Governmental debts, the silver question and Mr. Ramsay MacDonald's disarmament plans are being discussed preparatory to further discussions between Mr. Roosevelt and the debtor nations. Japan, in view of her particular position after her notification of secession from the League, is now more favourably disposed toward the impending meetings in Washington than when the project was first proposed.

New York. President Roosevelt regards Canada as the likeliest country with which to negotiate reciprocal pacts, which would serve as a model for subsequent agreements elsewhere.

LATEST STYLES IN LINGERIE.

Night Gowns Preferred To Pyjamas.

The New closeness-or slimness of cut is extended to lingerie. I have noticed some of the prettiest nightgowns are fashioned and shaped more like a slip. These models are preferred to pyjamas, and take up much less room in a suit case, even with their attractive little coatees to match.

To travel light is smart. To be inflicted with trunks full of clothes is considered very old-fashioned, but "newly-wed" will have a goodly supply of lingerie-de-luxe in addition to their trousseau frocks and frills!

Apart from a fussy bed jacket, all boudoir and dressing gowns are fashioned on slim, almost tailored lines, but they can be dainty in colouring and fine hand-work.

Some of the loveliest jackets and gowns are made of Shetland, lined finest quality satin and crepe. Wool-lace is one of the most useful fabrics for boudoir or travel, with its silken covering or lining, as warm as a thick flannel. When travelling a couple of these gowns can be taken to wear over the nightgown or pyjama suit.

WRITING.

Famous Novelist's Opinion.

Mr. A. E. W. Mason does not believe in rules about writing the famous novelist. In his opinion, "Nobody alive can lay down laws about it, to start with because although everybody is laying down laws about it as quickly and as pedantically as they can, the next generation will upset them. Anybody who is going to make rules pally in the imagination of novel- your feet. about writing is going to be proved to be wrong. There are no rules about writing. The only thing you can say about writing is that there is a sort of tact which may or may not keep you right.

Mr. J. W. Marriott sets out in And if an endless sleep He wills, stable riding a white horse at fectly in the work of Jane Austen, subject by "intelligent young men and women between the ages of sixteen and twenty-five."

> It is mostly plain commonsense, but I quarrel with Mr. Marriott, as I would with anyone else who preached the old heresy that it is a good rule to stick to Anglo-Saxon as much as possible.

"There are," he goes on to say, "times when circumlocutions are permissible," and that sentence is a queer comment on his own doctrine. The word "lier," says Mr. Harriot, hurts more that the word "prevaricator." so we must circumlocute. But one would not call a man a liar unless one intended to hurt him. The plain truth of the matter is that English as we write It to-day is not Anglo-Saxon, but something infinitely richer and more flexible, an amalgam of tongues. New instruments have been added to the orchestra, and a good writer uses them. When Shakespeare wrote:-

COUNT RULE IN BOXING IS CHANGED

"Ten" Called Instead of "Out."

Instructions have been issued by the British Boxing Board of Control to timekeepers that in future they are to call "ten" instead of "nine-out." .- The latter has been the rule ever since British boxing began, but it was stated by an official of the board recently that only referees will have the power to declare "out." The call "ten-out" has been in force in America for many years.

TO - DAY'S RACING

AT THE VALLEY.

(By Rapier.)

THE second day of the Easter Race Meeting at the Valley to-day will be featured by the meeting of Trentbridge, the Derby winner, and Diana. Bay, Mr. Dunbar's crack, in the Easter Stakes over a mile.

Mr. V. V. Needa, the former Shanghai jockey who rode Trentbridge to victory over Jack in the Derby, is confident of winning to-day's race. And I think he will. Mr. Frost will be up on Diana Bay, but he will find it difficult to stave off Mr. Needa's challenge in the last quarter, the Bay being a onepaced pony.
